

IN THE REALM OF VAUDEVILLE.

Monster Performance to Be Given at Koster's
To-night.

Anxious to divorce the public from their money, Manager Alfred E. Aarons will present at Koster & Bial's to-night one of the strongest and most gigantic vaudeville programmes ever offered in this city. No less than twenty-one entertainers will appear, among them being Basile Bonehill, Julius Walmark, Mary Jensen, Lora Burt, Maude Nugent, Fred Hallen and Mollie Fuller, Willard Sims, Jennie Graham, Della Rocco, James Thornton, Nellie Burt, Henri French, Beaumont Sisters, Cheridiah Simpson, Mons. and Mme. Le Roy, the Glazene Quintet and Mousie Toon and Mousie Chit. There will also be an augmented orchestra.

The bill put forth at Koster & Bial's last week scored such a big "hit" that Manager Aarons has determined to prolong it an additional week, adding to it a new serial act by Delmore and Lee.

The usual trimming and eliminating process has been carried out in regard to "Helter Skelter," the new burlesque at Weber and Fields' Music Hall. In making changes in the new offering, an entire new scene has been introduced. It deals with the great balloon feature of "The Great Ruby," and it may be easily conjectured what chances for laughter Weber and Fields can get out of a scene of that kind. Mabel Feuntun's burlesque of Mrs. Leslie Carter is still the principal feature of "Helter Skelter," although the other bits of travesty afford more or less opportunities for the other members of the stock company to distinguish themselves.

Weber and Fields, as the two thieves, have put in some sparkling bits of dialogue, in which Dave Warfield intrudes at frequent intervals. Peter F. Dalley makes plenty of fun in his own peculiar way and John T. Kelly is the same type of aggressive Irishman. Stromberg's melodies have already attained the whistling stage of popularity, which means that they are catchy and tuneful. The usual good vaudeville olio will prevail during the week.

An out-and-out vaudeville show, in which comedy is the main characteristic, is offered at the Pleasure Palace. The long bill, headed by Billy Clifford and Maude Huth, whose recent starring tour in "A High-Born Lady," won for them many new friends. Jessa Dandy, whose new style of Hebrew travesties are really clever; the Navvies, in their capital Irish farce, "A Touch of Nature"; Florence Moore, prima donna soprano; the Wilson family, new-comers from the West; and a score of tested vaudeville favorites are in the all day programme.

The latest song introduced in "A Belton of Error," at Hammerstein's Victoria, is "Mesmerize Me," and as sung by Ada Lewis has made a big hit. The fiftieth performance of this merry piece of farcical nonsense occurs Thursday evening, and will be fittingly celebrated by the Rogers Bros. with a batch of new jokes and songs. Mr. Hammerstein has decided to keep the present attraction on until hot weather, or at least until it is time to open the roof garden.

A programme of accepted vaudeville favorites has been arranged for this week at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre. The Russell Brothers will be seen in their marvellous impersonations of the Irish servant girls; the Cardovino Troup of dancers will make their American debut; George Felix and Lydia Barry will present the humorous skit, "The Vaudeville Craze"; and Solaret, "The Queen of Light," will give her illuminated dances.

Meers, Hartig & Seamon, chief vaudeville purveyors of Harlem, offer an exceptionally strong bill at their pretty and comfortable music hall. Its headliners are McIntyre and Heath and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sidman.

A fine programme has been arranged for to-night's concert.

Papiota remains at Keith's, with her spectacular and mysterious dances, and the Six Semetis hold over for a week. George Henry Trader will appear with company of four in "Oscar's Birthday," and the Reed family and the Daly Sisters are among the new comers.

At the Combination Houses.

One of the most interesting engagements of the season at the Grand Opera House will be the appearance there to-morrow night of dainty Anna Held in "The French Maid." The chic and popular French woman will be a novelty to Manager Piton's patrons, and as she will play the title part in the piece in English, something out of the common may be looked for. In addition to such performance Miss Held will introduce her inimitable and jingling chansons. The supporting company will include Charles Bigelow, as the eccentric waiter, and other popular comedians and vocalists. The piece will be presented with all the original scenery and costumes and in chorus of young and attractive women.

Again in perfect health, Joseph Jefferson begins a week's engagement at the Harlem Opera House to-morrow night, opening in "Rip Van Winkle." "Rip" will be repeated on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings and at the Saturday matinee. "The Rivals" will be presented on Wednesday and Friday nights. This will be the last time that Joseph Jefferson will appear in this city this season.

Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll will lecture at the Harlem Opera House to-night, his subject being "The Devil."

The Donnelly Stock Company, at the Murray Hill, will revive "A Glided Fool," which was written by Henry Guy Carleton and made familiar to theatre-goers by Nat Goodwin, Walter Allen and play Channery Short, the part originally interpreted by Mr. Goodwin.

Hayt's successful farce, "A Parlor Match," comes to the Star for a week's stay. The piece is replete with funny sayings, ludicrous situations, catchy music and good dancing.

Kate Claxton will hold the stage of the Columbus, appearing in Rudyard Kipling's one-act play, "The Light That Failed," and the perennial drama, "The Two Orphans."

"Pretz in a Madhouse," with J. K. Emmet and Lottie Gilson in the principal roles, will be presented at the Metropolitan. The piece ought to prove a strong draw card in trans-Harlem.

Big Circus at the Garden.

The Wild West show has packed its belongings and started on its road tour. Now comes the circus to take its place at Madison Square Garden. The engagement will be inaugurated Tuesday night. Performances will be given twice daily for eleven days thereafter. The show is the combined Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus, and it is going to make a bid for the place held by the Barnum & Bailey show in the affections of the New York circus-going public. The press agent says it is just as big, if not bigger, than any other show of the kind, and he ought to know.

Extraordinary Reductions

For 10 days. Cut rates will prevail in every department. Take advantage of this unusual offer. The reduction is due to the enormous out of town trade which we handle. We have secured, because of our large shipments, exceptionally favorable rates with all railroads for the next 10 days. Cut rates here mean something. We're not giving goods away nor are we in business for any other than business reasons. Our usual prices are lower than cut prices elsewhere. You can draw your own conclusions as to what our cut prices would consequently be. We deliver all purchases, on our own wagons, as far south as Asbury Park and to all intermediate points. Freight concessions make cut rates possible. We're merely passing the favor along.
